

Dawood University of Engineering and Technology

Department of CyberSecurity

Communication Skills

Miss Sunita Kumari

Body Language

& Professional Etiquette

Presented By

- Syed Wasif (060)
- Muhammad Rehan (102)
- Syed Abdul Rehman (105)

Outline

Overview

Table of Contents

2.1

Introduction to Body Language

2.5

Positive & Negative Body Language

2.2

Definitions

2.6

Concept & Definition of Etiquette

2.3

Important Features of Body Language

2.7

Need for Etiquettes

2.4

Examples of Body Language

2.8

Types of Etiquettes

2.1

Introduction

Introduction

What is Body Language?

- Body language is a form of non-verbal communication using physical behavior, gestures, and expressions.
- It accounts for a significant portion of how we communicate — often more than words alone.
- Includes facial expressions, posture, gestures, eye contact, and tone of voice.
- Plays a vital role in personal, social, and professional interactions.
- Understanding body language helps in building better relationships and communication skills.

Definitions

Body Language

Non-verbal signals expressed through physical behavior, posture, and gestures that communicate messages to others.

Non-Verbal Communication

The transmission of messages without using words — includes facial expressions, body movements, and eye contact.

Kinesics

The study of body language as a means of communication, including gestures, facial expressions, and posture.

2.3

Important Features

Important Features of Body Language

Universal

Many expressions like happiness or fear are recognized globally across cultures.

Continuous

Body language is always active — even silence and stillness send messages.

Involuntary

Many signals occur unconsciously and are hard to fake consistently.

Context-Dependent

The meaning of gestures changes based on situation and culture.

Multi-Channel

Multiple signals (posture + expression + tone) combine to form a message.

Powerful

Can reinforce or contradict spoken words, sometimes overriding them entirely.

2.4

Examples

Examples of Body Language

Facial Expressions

- Smiling — friendliness & warmth
- Frowning — displeasure or confusion
- Raised eyebrows — surprise or disbelief
- Direct eye contact — confidence & sincerity
- Avoiding eye contact — nervousness or dishonesty

Gestures & Posture

- Open arms — openness and receptivity
- Crossed arms — defensiveness or discomfort
- Firm handshake — confidence
- Nodding — agreement and active listening
- Leaning in — interest and engagement

2.5

Positive & Negative

Positive & Negative Body Language

POSITIVE

- Maintaining eye contact
- Upright, open posture
- Genuine smile
- Nodding while listening
- Relaxed, open hand gestures
- Leaning forward slightly

NEGATIVE

- Avoiding eye contact
- Slumped or closed posture
- Forced or fake smile
- Fidgeting or tapping
- Crossed arms or legs
- Looking at phone/watch

2.6

Etiquette

Concept & Definition of Etiquette

"Etiquette is the set of rules and conventions governing correct or polite behavior in society or among members of a particular profession or group."

Key Concepts

- Etiquette originates from the French word meaning 'label' or 'ticket'.
- It refers to expected behavior standards in social and professional settings.
- Etiquette shows respect, consideration, and courtesy toward others.
- It varies across cultures but universally promotes harmony and cooperation.

2.7

Need for Etiquettes

Need for Etiquettes

1

Builds Respect

Etiquette helps earn respect and trust from colleagues, clients, and society.

2

Creates Harmony

Shared social rules reduce conflict and promote peaceful co-existence.

3

Professional Image

Good etiquette enhances your career prospects and professional reputation.

4

Effective Communication

Proper etiquette ensures messages are delivered and received respectfully.

2.8

Types of Etiquettes

Types of Etiquettes

2.8.1 Social Etiquettes

2.8.2 Dress Code / Clothing Etiquettes

2.8.3 Telephone Etiquettes

2.8.4 Interview Etiquettes

2.8.5 Meeting Etiquettes

2.8.1

Social Etiquettes

Social Etiquettes

- Greet others politely — use proper salutations such as 'Good morning' or 'Hello'.
- Practice active listening — do not interrupt while others are speaking.
- Maintain appropriate personal space during conversations.
- Be punctual — respect others' time in social and professional settings.
- Avoid discussing sensitive or controversial topics in unfamiliar company.
- Use polite language — say 'Please', 'Thank you', and 'Excuse me' regularly.
- Put away your phone and give full attention during face-to-face interactions.

2.8.2

Dress Code Etiquettes

Dress Code / Clothing Etiquettes

Professional Settings

- Wear clean, ironed, and well-fitted clothing.
- Choose formal attire for interviews and meetings.
- Avoid flashy colors or excessive accessories.
- Ensure shoes are clean and appropriate.

General Rules

- Dress according to the occasion and venue.
- Follow the organization's dress code policy.
- Maintain personal hygiene alongside clothing.
- Modesty and cultural sensitivity matter.

2.8.3

Telephone Etiquettes

Telephone Etiquettes

- Answer calls promptly — within 2–3 rings whenever possible.
- Greet the caller professionally: 'Good morning, this is [Name] speaking.'
- Speak clearly and at a moderate pace — avoid mumbling.
- Listen carefully and do not interrupt the caller.
- Take notes during important calls and confirm key details.
- Inform the caller before placing them on hold; do not keep them waiting long.
- End calls politely: 'Thank you for calling, have a good day.'
- Avoid using phones in meetings, libraries, or places of worship.

2.8.4

Interview Etiquettes

Types

Interview Etiquettes

Before

Research the company. Dress professionally. Arrive 10–15 minutes early. Bring required documents.

During

Greet with a firm handshake. Maintain eye contact. Listen carefully before answering. Speak clearly and confidently.

After

Thank the interviewer for their time. Send a follow-up thank-you note or email within 24 hours.

2.8.5

Meeting Etiquettes

Meeting Etiquettes

- Be on time — arriving late disrupts the flow and shows disrespect.
- Prepare in advance — review the agenda and come with ideas or questions.
- Silence your phone and avoid distractions during the meeting.
- Participate actively — contribute your thoughts when appropriate.
- Do not interrupt — wait for others to finish before speaking.
- Respect differing opinions; engage in healthy, constructive discussion.
- Take notes to remember key decisions and action items.
- Follow up on assigned tasks and responsibilities after the meeting.

Thank You

for your attention

Presented By | Syed Wasif (060) • Muhammad Rehan (102) • Syed Abdul Rehman (105)

Communication Skills — Miss Sunita Kumari